10:30-11:00	Tea Break
11:00-12:00	Power Panel: JAM - The Backbone of Reforms
	Leaky delivery systems for long have been the bane of India's economy. These result in poor targeting of subsidies and system spending more on itself rather than development. Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana, Aadhar seeding and use of the ubiquitous mobiles offer a never before opportunity to India to break from the past. The success story of LPG subsidy targeting is also shared.
	Moderated by: Dr Gursharan Dhanjal, Editor & CEO, Skoch Group
	Dr Neeraj Mittal, Joint Secretary (Marketing), Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas
	Mr R K Bajaj, Distinguished Fellow, Skoch Development Foundation
	Mr Deepak Maheshwari, Head- Government Affairs, Symantec Software Solutions
	Ms Preeti Sinha, Senior President & Global Convener – YES INSTITUTE
12:00-13:00	Power Panel: Marginalised and Differentiated Banking
	Answer to poor implementation and lack of business case has often been found in innovation. Though success of this remains debatable, more so if complicated systems are chosen compared to simpler and anthropologically prudent ones. Differentiated banking attempts to counter the high degree of financial exclusion in India. The panel discusses as to how this innovation can be better implemented with supporting structures to target poverty and result in a robust and vibrant financial market even for the excluded.
	Moderated by: Mr Sameer Kochhar, Chairman, Skoch Group
	Mr Ajit Kesari, Principal Secretary-Cooperatives, Government of Madhya Pradesh
	Mr Rajesh Aggarwal, Joint Secretary, Department of Financial Services, Ministry of Finance
	Dr M Ramachandran, Distinguished Fellow, Skoch Development Foundation

DEFEATING POVERTY

20th March 2015 - 08:30-17:00

Desire Hall, Le-Meridien, Janpath New Delhi

14:00-15:30

Power Panel: Demolishing Technology Barriers

This panel examines how technology barriers created by choices made by regulators; government and institutions end up costing the country dearly. It looks at how the combination of bank accounts, aadhar, mobiles and biometric points of service can serve India better than cards. It argues that formal or informal arrangements that result in technology or service provider choices being mandated only distort the market and eventually erode competitiveness and innovation.

Moderated by: Mr Sameer Kochhar, Chairman, Skoch Group

Mr Ram Sewak Sharma, Secretary, DeitY

Mr Karan Bajwa, Managing Director, Microsoft Corporation (India) & Co-Chairman, National Mission on Smart Governance, CAII

Dr N S Kalsi, Government of Punjab

Mr Ari Sarker, Division President - South Asia, MasterCard Worldwide & Governing Council Member, CAII

Mr Som Satsangi, Vice President, HP India

15:30-16:15

Power Panel: Mainstreaming the Marginalised

This panel examines as to how various field interventions and forward and backward linkages can help create better livelihood options. It also looks at importance of risk cover for exigencies like crop, cattle and health insurance that typically push the below the poverty line population into chronic poverty.

Chair: Dr Gursharan Dhanjal, Editor & CEO, Skoch Group

Ms Zohra Chatterji, Distinguished Fellow, Skoch Development Foundation

Mr Ramesh Rawal, Trustee and Executive Vice President, BAIF

Recommendations emanating from various conferences and field research of Skoch Group have had a positive policy impact on Financial Inclusion. We are now attempting to strengthen the Digital India program further through dialogue, discussion and returning actionable recommendations. This round table examines very important issues of building capacities on procurement, enabling fair and timely compensation to partners while providing a technology and net neutral level playing field. It brings in the role of cloud and the need for out of the box thinking on services delivery.
